St. Mary's Rehabilitation Center for Children

Westchester Horse Council's Board, led by President Debbie Shecter, hosted Dances With Horses II, a benefit for St. Mary's Rehabilitation Center for Children at the 100-acre Coker Farm in Bedford. Coker Farm owner Judy Richter opened her land to the public for the afternoon event that included a horse and rider exhibition, pony rides, face painting, petting zoo and silent auction. Funds raised will directly benefit young patients at the medical center.

St. Mary's Rehabilitation Center for Children is home to a broad range of pediatric specialists who work to improve the health and quality of life for children and families with special needs. For further information or to make a donation, contact the center located at 15 Spring Valley Rd., Ossining. 333-7000. www.stmaryskids.org.

Richard Scott Salon and Day Spa

A devastating fire destroyed a portion of Mount Kisco's Richard Scott Salon and Day Spa in January of this year. But the 7,000-square-foot facility has opened its doors once again and the redesign offers a more spacious and updated layout.

Various local salons hosted Richard Scott employees throughout the renovation process so they could continue to service their clientele. To commemorate the grand reopening and to thank their neighbors and the community, the Salon and Spa hosted a event that included the commemorative planting of two Bedford pear trees, one in Shoppers Park and another in the promenade alongside South Moger Avenue.
